Constitution Day 2010

The Calculations, Costs, and Consequences of Using the Courts for Social Change: The Case of Same Sex Marriage

A Discussion Featuring:

Laura Beth Nielsen, JD, PhD
Research Faculty, American Bar Foundation
Associate Professor, Sociology
Northwestern University

Stephen M. Engel, PhD
Assistant Professor, Political Science
Marquette University

Friday 9/17
Noon to 1 PM
Appellate Courtroom, First Floor
Eckstein Hall (Marquette University Law School)

Jones v. Hallahan (1973)
Baehr v. Lewin (1993)
Lewis v. Harris (2006)
In re Marriage Cases (2008)

Sponsored by the Marquette University Department of Political Science, the Marquette University Law School, Women & Gender Studies, the Department of Social and Cultural Sciences and these student organizations: Pi Sigma Alpha, Empowerment, the Marquette University Student Government Diversity Commission, Gender Sexuality Alliance (GSA), and the American Constitution Society (ACS)