

McAdams, John

From: Office of the Provost
Sent: Wednesday, November 30, 2016 3:15 PM
To: DL-HR-OTR-Combined
Subject: Faculty Conversations on Learning

Register now at: <http://marquette.edu/ctl/workshops/workshops-rsvp.php>

Wednesday, January 11, 2017

8:30 a.m. -2:30 p.m.

Eckstein Hall Conference Center

Faculty Conversations on Learning

FREEDOM DREAMS NOW: WHOSE LIVES MATTER?!

The goals of this interdisciplinary all-campus faculty day are to:

- Provide a framework to discuss the social movements around African American, Latinx, Native American, Muslim lives and others on the margins
- Explore strategies for responding to student responses to learning about the protest strategies of these groups
- Engage in interdisciplinary dialogue and conversation with faculty and students about the impact of these movements at Marquette and the Milwaukee community

Keynote by Joseph Brown, S.J.,
Director of the Africana Studies Department,
Southern Illinois University.

Register at: <http://marquette.edu/ctl/workshops/workshops-rsvp.php>